

Form CRS – Client Relationship Summary

Introduction

Alight Financial Advisors, LLC (“AFA”), is an investment advisor registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. We feel that it is important for you to understand how advisory and brokerage services and fees differ in order to determine which type of account is right for you. There are free and simple tools available to research firms and financial professionals at <https://investor.gov/CRS> which also provides educational materials about investment advisers, broker-dealers and investing.

What types of investment services and advice can you provide me?

AFA currently offers two investment advisory services options. The first is a Workplace Retirement solution offered to plan participants in an employer sponsored 401(k) retirement plan. Within the Workplace Retirement solution, your plan sponsor has two different sub-advised channels to choose from. These services are made available to 401(k) plans that are clients of our parent company, Alight Solutions. Only funds and securities made available to you by your plan sponsor can be used for this option. Each channel provides an ongoing evaluation, portfolio management, and one time advice. By opening a portfolio management account with us, you give us full discretion to buy and sell plan assets in your account without calling you first. Discretionary accounts are regularly monitored (at least monthly), and if necessary, rebalanced to meet your stated goals and objectives. If you only utilize our one-time advice function, your account will be managed on a non-discretionary basis, which means you make the ultimate decision regarding the purchase or sale of plan assets. Accounts providing one time advice are monitored on an as used basis, and any recommendations will be available each time you access your account. There are no minimum account balances required to open an account. Depending on your plan sponsor, financial planning may also be available.

Upon opening an account with us, a packet of information will be provided to you, including a copy of our terms and conditions. The terms and conditions will provide additional detail on how we will handle certain portions of your account, such as any trading any company stock.

The second option is the Alight IRA which provides discretionary asset management for retirement assets outside of an employer sponsored retirement plan. This option is made available to participants of retirement plans that are clients of our parent company, Alight Solutions, who would like to transfer assets from their employers plan to an Individual Retirement Account. An asset allocation made up of ETF's is determined for you during account opening based on your investment objectives and overall financial picture. Your account will be rebalanced as needed on a discretionary basis to meet your ongoing financial goals that are agreed upon at account opening. You will sign a client advisory agreement stating the terms of the service at the time of account opening. AFA's advisors may recommend a rollover strategy to you, which may include recommending the Alight IRA, dependent on your individual situation.

These terms and conditions will remain in place until you or we terminate the relationship. Additional information about our advisory services is located in Item 4 of our Firm Brochure which is available upon request or online at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/>

Questions to Ask Us:

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?

- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do those qualifications mean?

What fees and costs will I pay?

Fees and costs affect the value of your account over time. Please ask your adviser to give you personalized information on the fees and costs that you will pay based on your service selection. For portfolio management within the Workplace solution and the Alight IRA, you will be charged an ongoing asset-based fee that is calculated annually and then collected on a monthly basis, in arrears, based on the value of the investments in your account. The Workplace portfolio management services have a fee schedule that ranges up to 0.60% depending on the value of the investments in your account. You may be charged a platform fee of up to $10 a year. This fee may be paid by your plan sponsor. The Alight IRA has a fee schedule that ranges up to 0.50%. Our incentive is to increase the value of your account over time which will increase our fees over time. Your fees will be automatically deducted from your account. Some investments, such as mutual funds, charge additional fees that will reduce the value of your investments over time. You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

Additional information about our fees is located in Item 5 of our Firm Brochure. Our Firm Brochure is available upon request or online at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/>

Questions to Ask Us:

- Help me understand how these fees and costs will affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have a fiduciary duty to place the interest of our clients ahead of our own and the firm. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. An example of a conflict of interest would be that as your account grows, we will earn more fees, therefore we benefit if your account grows in size.

The firm's revenue is solely from the advisory fees we collect from your accounts, and any platform fees we collect. Our financial professionals are employees of the firm and are paid a fixed salary, plus small bonuses related to customer engagement.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

Our firm does not have any disciplinary history. Some of our financial professionals may have disciplinary history. Visit <https://investor.gov/CRS> for a free and simple search tool to research our firm and our financial professionals.
